

ID badge is actual size

Badges are secured firmly so that they cannot be removed from a closed container

All Source offers customized ID badges that will educate your customers and build brand awareness. Hot stamping your company logo to a secure shredding container is an alternative branding application to ID badges and is available on large container orders.

EFFICIENT

- Advertise your company directly in front of your customers
- Make it convenient for your customers to reach you
- Improve your brand and company name recognition
- Help protect your container investment by identifying you as the service provider
- ID badges can be easily changed and updated anytime
- ID badges are secured firmly so that they can not be removed from a closed container

Keep your company name front and centre, ensuring you can be contacted easily
